BURNED THE BRIDGES

Desperate State of Affairs in Idaho.

SPOKANE UNDER MARTIAL LAW

General Curtis Supposed to Have Been Captured by the Strikers.

BOISE, July 13.—Governor Willey has issued a proclamation placing Shoshone county under martial law.

Word has been received that three companies of federal troops from Missoula have arrived in Mullan. The other troops have not been heard from.

Adjutant General Curtis, who is in command of the state troops, and who went to Cœr d'Alene in advance of the outbreak, has not been heard from today, and it is feared he has fallen into the hands of strikers.

A dispatch to the governor from Judge Reyburn at Spokane, says the union men drove 132 non-union men out yesterday, firing on them and killing two.

Superintendent Dickinson of the Northern Pacific telegraphed the Governor from Tacoma this afternoon that their tracks and bridges had been destroyed in the vicinity of Mullan and Wallace, and that the wires had been cut. They will hold the county responsible.

Another message to the governor says several non-union men had been blown up, and that the union miners proposed to fight the troops to death.

AT FEVER HEAT.

Excitement Still Intense Over the Troubles.

BOISE, July 13.—Excitement over the situation in the Cœur d'Alene continues at a high pitch and news being received tends to increase it.

The governor today declared a state of martial law in Shoshone county.

The first message received by the governor this morning was from General Ruger, in answer to the governor's request of Tuesday for more troops.

In the message General Ruger says: "I ordered yesterday all the available troops from Fort Sherman and five companies of infantry from Vancouver to proceed at once to the scene of the trouble. The troops left both places early this morning. The force from Vancouver will reach the scene about as soon as those could from Walla Walla. There is mainly cavalry at the latter place and not so well suited for duty, but the infantry of the post and also of Fort Spokane have been ordered to be ready to move. The command from Missoula is at Mullan."

Later in the day the governor received a dispatch from Judge Heyburn, saying no troops had arrived yet. "Carlin did not leave Harrison's landing until 9 o'clock this morning. Strikers took 132 of our unarmed miners to the mouth of Fourth of July canyon, near Cataldo, last night, and after robbing them fired on them. We know of at least two killed. They are preparing to go through the same performance with 200 more this afternoon. They just start them and then shoot them down like dogs."

The delay in getting troops is unaccountable. During the afternoon a message was received from Inspector General Curtis of the state troops, showing that he was with Colonel Carlin from Fort Sherman to Cataldo. He said they would need reinforcements before moving on the strikers.

KINNEY'S STORY

Of How He Escaped From the Gem Mine.

SPOKANE, July 13.—E. S. Kinney, bookkeeper for the Gem mine near Wallace, arrived in Spokane to-day. He was present at Old Mission when the mob charged on the non-union refugees, and saw the whole affair from the window of a hotel.

Kinney had been ordered out of the country by the strikers, and was helping some of his former employes to reach Spokane.

In all there were 132 men from the different mines. They had been entirely disarmed and were waiting for a boat, which was late. Just at dusk last evening a squad of eight armed men came charging down the road track, yelling and firing rifles. The refugees scattered in different directions and ran for the river, mountains and gulches, their pursuers following them, shooting and robbing them.

Most of the fugitives were driven down Fourth of July canyon, but a number made for the brush along the river bank and down the river.

When Kinney left it was known that two of the non-union men had been slain—George Robinson and a Swede whose name is unknown.

The boat started down the river in the darkness and was hailed again and again by the fugitives who had escaped the fury of the mob and concealed themselves in the bushes.

"In all we picked up eight or ten of them," said Kinney; "all were wet, cold and perishing from hunger, fright and exposure. After swimming the river they had waited for three hours before the boat came along. Some of these men are now here and others were left in Cœur d'Alene city."

SAW THE STRIKERS.

Will Surrender if Non-Unionists Leave.

SPOKANE, July 13.—Three companies of United States troops, under command of General Carlin, took the train early this morning at Harrison, on Lake Cœur d'Alene, and ran up to Cataldo, within two miles of Wardner. Pending the arrival of reinforcements it was thought best to go into camp here for the time being.

General Carlin declared that he would not take that light command into the midst of 600 armed and desperate men fighting from ambush.

He boarded an engine, however, and went in advance himself to Wardner. He received assurances from the strikers that they would lay down their guns and disband if the non-union men still in the country would be driven out.

Meanwhile colored troops from Missoula were coming in from the east at Mullan, twenty miles east of Wardner. They encountered wrecked bridges that had been wrecked by the strikers.

After waiting a few hours the commanding officer received orders to return to Missoula. What the purpose of this may be no one can tell.

FULLER DETAILS.

Judge Heyburn Tells of the Murder in the Canyon.

BOISE, July 13.—The governor has given General Curtis general orders to protect property, preserve life, enforce the law and suppress violence. Details of the movements of troops, and so forth, have been left entirely with General Curtis.

During the afternoon the governor held a conversation by wire with Judge Heyburn in Spokane. The latter said in substance:

"Strikers have complete possession of the district. No reliable news obtainable from Wardner except that furnished by military officers now in the field. The militia and troops from Fort Sherman are at Cataldo, seventeen miles west of Wardner, with General Curtis. They will not move until reinforcements arrive."

Mr. Heyburn gave fuller particulars of the massacre in the Fourth of July canyon. He said this morning that twelve bodies were picked up in the canyon. They were riddled with bullets. A number of non-union men are wounded, but they were carried away by their comrades. To-day 200 more non-union men were sent out of Wardner on board the cars, guarded by members of the Miners Union, who left the train when it was a few miles out of town.

ALL IS QUIET.

The Miners Take a Peaceful Trip to Cataldo.

WALLACE, July 13.—The sheriff has just arrived here from Wardner. He accompanied the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine forces to Cataldo. At that point the sheriff met General Carlin and troops and General Curtis. He later read a proclamation declaring Shoshone county under martial law.

The sheriff sent the following communication tonight to General Carlin at Cataldo:

"Miners have disbanded and gone to their respective homes. There is no trouble at Wallace or Wardner.

"At 9.30 this evening the crisis was considered as passed. The community tonight is as quiet as a church yard, but the past twenty-six hours have been the most trying Cœur d'Alene has ever experienced. Had the colored troops arrived at Wallace last night there would have been a battle in the darkness among the clouds, as the mountains about Wallace were full of armed miners thoroughly concealed."

Opinions Differ.

BOISE, July 13.—Governor Willey received several dispatches between 9 and 10 o'clock tonight.

General Curtis telegraphed from Cataldo that the miners are weakening, and arrests could be made as soon as the officers got there.

Colonel Carlin telegraphed from Cataldo that it was rumored that the rioters had dispersed and gone home, and that he would move up to Wardner tomorrow morning.

Deputy Marshal Dryden telegraphed from Cœur d'Alene City that he had just returned from Wardner, and that the strikers there had loaded the railway tracks and bridges and concentrator in the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines with dynamite, ready to blow up the troops on their arrival.

General Ruger telegraphed that 200 additional troops had been ordered from Fort Keogh.

The governor has telegraphed General Curtis to arrest all persons implicated in the recent outrages.

A Bad Business.

BOISE, July 13.—The blackest feature of this direful conflict was the tragedy at Old Mission and in Fourth of July canyon. After driving the many fugitive non-union men into the canyon the strikers followed them and shot them down like deer.

Among those shot was Foreman Monaghan of the Gem mine, who was coming out with his family. His family was spared, but Monaghan was run into the brush and shot through the back. He was picked up this morning and taken back to the mines. It is thought he will die.

It is reported that twelve bodies have already been recovered in Fourth of July canyon. The non-union men had been entirely disarmed and were at the mercy of their pursuers.

The boat that came down the lake today picked up twenty more of the fugitives who had taken to the river and brush. They tell tales of how they were beaten with revolvers and many robbed of all their valuables.

Wardner Deserted.

PORTLAND, July 13.—A dispatch received in this city tonight, sent from Wallace, Idaho, at 4 p.m., said that all trouble was over at Wardner, as the miners have left there and are on the way to Wallace. Those interviewed say the trouble is over and all miners not belonging at Wardner will be in Wallace before 6 o'clock. No bridges were burned between here and Wardner. Trains are moving and the miners are completely worn out, many scarcely had any sleep since Saturday night.

Bridges Burned.

WALLACE, July 13.—The colored troops reached a point two miles west of Mullan when they were ordered back to Missoula. Several bridges were burned west of Mullan to prevent the troops from crossing. All is quiet at Wallace, and no trouble probable here today.

The situation at Wardner is critical.

Will Need No Pension.

BAKERSFIELD, July 13. — Milton Crocker, a farmer and an old resident of this county, was thrown from a sulky last night, receiving such injuries of the spine and head that caused paralysis, and doctors say that he cannot live. He is an old soldier and came in to take the train last night to attend a medical examination at Fresno with the view of getting a pension.

A Cyclone Slaughter.

TOLEDO, July 13.—A special from Springfield says that a terrible cyclone struck the southern portion of that city this morning and demolished fifty houses and fatally injured ten persons. The police are at work among the ruins, hunting for the wounded. The sight is dreadful beyond description.

FRICK ON THE STAND

His Story Told to the Committee.

HE HIRED THE PINKERTONS

And Had Something to Do With Furnishing Them With Winchesters.

PITTSBURG, July 13.—The congressional committee continued the Homestead investigation this morning with the further examination of Frick of the Carnegie company.

He detailed the arrangements with the Pinkertons to furnish guards for the Homestead property. Said arms were consigned to the Union supply company, who delivered them to Captain Rogers of the Pinkertons.

Frick was not sure, but supposed he had something to do with the furnishing of arms; he could not be brought to answer more definitely.

He believed the Pinkertons advised that arms would be needed, but arms were not needed in the employment of guards.

Frick said the wages paid at Homestead were higher than at any other place.

Chairman Boatner of the committee declared the scale of wages paid as explained by Frick was the highest wages he ever heard of.

Captain Rogers was then called, and told of the trip to Homestead, accompanied by a deputy sheriff, who went in his official capacity. He then detailed the story of the fight at Homestead. The strikers fired first.

Sheriff McCleary testified that the Carnegie company notified him a week before the men went out that there would be trouble; that they were arranging to send 300 men to Homestead, and wanted them deputized.

SWEPT INTO ETERNITY.

Search for Victims of the Great Avalanche.

PARIS, July 13.—The work of searching for the bodies of those who lost their lives in the disaster at St. Gervais Les Bains yesterday was continued today.

The bodies of those already recovered were torn and mangled most horribly. In many cases the heads were torn from the bodies. Others had their arms and legs cut off by the huge masses of ice that passed over them. Some were crushed out of all semblance to humanity.

When the glacier slid down into the bon mat, on which the mountain stream St. Gervais Des Bains is situated, the current was dammed and the water rose rapidly behind the huge wall of ice. Finally the pressure became so great that the dam was broken, and a roaring, grinding, rushing, immense volume of water and tremendous masses of ice started down the ravine.

Many victims overtaken in their sleep were instantly swept into the torrent and drowned. Their bodies were afterward mutilated by the floating debris.

Of fifty-seven employes in the baths only nine were saved alive. Seven of these were severely injured.

At the hamlet of Bionassy, which was swept out of existence, thirty-five persons were killed.

A Witch-Killer Freed.

CARSON CITY, Nev., July 13.—John Sides, an Indian interpreter of the Piute tribe, an Indian so frequently connected with the Messiah craze, appeared before the board of pardons to-day, now in session, to plead the case of the young Indian who had killed a witch doctor in Elk county some years ago. He made a long statement of the case in good English, and when almost through was asked by one of the board why the killing took place with so little ceremony. He drew himself up and deliberately replied: "For the same reason that your people used to kill witches." This sharp piece of repartee took an immediate effect and in a short time the prisoner was a free man.

A Smallpox Quarantine.

VICTORIA, July 13.—The steamer City of Nanaimo, from Victoria, was quarantined by the Nanaimo authorities on account of the prevalence of smallpox at Victoria. Ninety-five passengers from Nanaimo were on the steamer when quarantined. Premier Davies has advised the Nanaimo authorities that their action is illegal. A mandamus was granted by Chief Justice Burgie today, commanding the Vancouver authorities not to prevent the landing of passengers from Victoria, the quarantine law affecting domestic ports having been complied with. Should opposition to the landing of passengers continue at Vancouver, measures to suppress mob law will be taken. The disease here is well in hand and the scare is virtually over.

Officers Selected.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The Democratic State Central committee met here today and elected the following officers: Chairman, Max Popper; first, second and third vice chairmen, O. W. Welborn of Gilroy, James G. Murphy of Del Norte, Martin C. Marsh of Los Angeles, in the order named; secretary, R. P. Troy of San Rafael; treasurer, Barry Baldwin.

Murderer Lynched.

FRANKLIN, Ky., July 13.—Shortly after midnight a mob took J. R. Redfern (white) from the jail and hanged him for killing H. B. Dunn, circuit court clerk, who was shot while trying to eject Redfern from one of his houses. Redfern also fatally wounded a negro accompanying Dunn.

The promoters of the McKinley tariff mean it to push forward the policy of America for Americans. One method of realizing it was to keep all work within their own dominions. The country was to be made self-supplying; what could be produced at home was not to be bought abroad. That was the key-note of the McKinley scheme, and it is working out the idea of its designers with the precision and effectiveness of a machine.—Sheffield (England) Daily Telegraph.

SOME UNPROTECTED LABOR.

The Stockton Mail is a jaundiced opponent of protection. Its vision is even effected by its malady, and causes everything to appear to it of the same color as its political complexion. It fails utterly to discern the difference between white and black, or a rational and irrational statement. It says every day of its life, and sometimes oftener than that, that the tariff has nothing to do with keeping up American wages. In its issue of Tuesday it cites in proof of this unwarranted statement that the wages of house painters, farm laborers, blacksmiths, printers, bricklayers, etc., are higher in comparison with wages in England than are wages in the protected industries. That is indeed a paralyzing argument. Unaccountable, isn't it, that open competition with the low-priced English house painters, bricklayers and printers of this country does not force wages down to the English standard? Imported brick houses, built by British masons at $2 per day, and covered with three coats of English paint laid on at $1.50 a day, it would seem in a little while would drive out of business the American mason who gets $6 a day and the American painter who gets $4 a day, or force them to come down to British wages. It would seem, also, that the British newspaper, with its deep and incomprehensible editorials on free trade, and its justly celebrated feature of humor, all placed in type at a cost of 30 cents per 1000 ems, would force the American printer to set type at that rate or drive the American newspaper out of business. But it must be admitted that they don't do it. The American horseshoer also continues to get from $4 to $10, while his British competitor shoes the bobtailed horses of the Lunnon haristocracy for eight shillin' a day. And the tariff does not tax the labor of the English horseshoer, either, when its product is shipped into this country. The Mail appears to have it all its own way in this argument. It might also have added that the school teachers of this country are much better paid than those of England, notwithstanding that foreign education is admitted free into this country.

However, it may be added that the textile fabrics, the iron and steel and tinplate manufactured in England, the raisins grown in Spain and the prunes grown in Turkey, the wine produced in France and the wool grown in Australia, are taxed for the purpose of protection, and that in these industries also more than double the wages are paid to labor in this country. These are all articles which are shipped to this country in large quantities in direct competition with American producers and American labor. The present wages could not by any possibility be paid in these industries if the tariff did not protect them from equal competition with the lower wages of foreign countries. That statement no reasonable person will dispute. One manufacturer cannot pay high wages and compete with another who pays low wages, unless there is something to offset that difference in wages. The protective tariff equalizes the difference between English and American wages for the American producer and manufacturer.

The fact that higher wages are maintained in American industries which compete with those of foreign countries, and are protected by the tariff, has much to do with keeping up the general standard of wages in the United States, even in those industries mentioned by the Mail, in which there is not and cannot be any competition with foreign countries.

The picture of organized bodies of laboring men shooting other laboring men who do not happen to agree with them in their relations with employers is not a pleasant one to contemplate in a country where individual freedom within the law is one of the most sacred rights guaranteed by the constitution. There are no conditions existing in this country which justify a spirit of anarchy, of murder and lawlessness, and the present tendency in that direction should be curbed with a stern determination and a strong hand. It is time for cowards and demagogues to be given a back seat, and for reason and right to assert themselves.

The English newspapers pick no flaws in the free trade plank in the Democratic platform.

The revelations made by the congressional investigation into the causes of the strike at the Homestead steel works are in the nature of a genuine surprise. To judge from the howl made by free trade newspapers, the conclusion would be that most of these strikers were getting only enough wages to enable them to live from day to day, and that even a slight reduction would bring them to the verge of starvation. The evidence shows that the wages paid were as follows: Rollers, $250 to $275 per month; heaters, $185 to $190 per month; heaters' helpers, $130; trainmen, $97 to $120; others average $80 per month. There is no other class of mechanics in the United States getting better wages than these; in many trades they are getting less. Compared to wages in similar industries in foreign countries the above scale is more than double. They are wages which afford comfort to the common laborer, and with ordinary prudence, competence to the skilled mechanic. The free trader and political demagogues who demanded this investigation for partisan purposes will have reason to wish that they had let it alone. They will be able to make no one believe that Carnegie & Co. could maintain such wages as these without the assistance of the protective tariff.

New Jersey is no longer hopelessly Democratic. Through the knavish manipulation of the ballot in a single county that state has been for years kept hopelessly in the Democratic column. No matter if the other twenty counties went Republican the Hudson county ballot box stuffers could manage to count a majority sufficient to overcome them. The whole political machinery of the state has been in the hands of a ring whose methods are patterned after Tammany. Last November the people of Jersey City made a supreme effort to free themselves from political serfdom, and elected a Republican mayor. Now twenty-four of the twenty-nine convicted political robbers are either in the Snake Hill penitentiary or the state prison under sentence of from nine to eighteen months of imprisonment at hard labor. Such a culmination of the struggle to rid the state of the pestilential gang cannot fail to be fruitful of good results. The punishing of this powerful ring is one of the greatest achievements yet accomplished, and is likely to have an important influence in the fall campaign.

The Democratic congressmen who recently voted for free coinage and are now opposing it on the ground that their party has committed itself against that issue are not occupying a very enviable position. The man who votes against that which he believes to be for the public good on partisan grounds is not a fit representative of the people.

The gas company failed to supply The Republican engine with gas yesterday morning, and for that reason subscribers living on the lines of railroad north of Fresno did not receive their papers. If this thing happens again the gas company will be broiled on one of their own stoves.

Architect Curtis ought to be very grateful for the $350 of the people's money given him by the Triangle. It is seldom indeed that a man gets more than he asks for his services.

NOTICE.

School Bond Election Notice.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO THE electors of Caruthers School District, in the county of Fresno and state of California, that, in accordance with the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, as set forth in section 1880 to and including section 1888 of said Code, an election will be held on the 22d day of July, A.D. 1892, at the Farmers' Warehouse in the town of Caruthers in said Caruthers School District, at which time will be submitted to the electors of said district the question of issuing bonds of the district and selling the same for the purpose of raising money for purchasing school lots and for building one or more school houses in such district and furnishing the same.

THE BANK'S MONEY.

Mr. Woodward Refuses to Produce the Books.

AS SACRED AS THE SANSCRIT

He Pleads That His Patrons' Business Should Not be Revealed to the Public.

Assessor Lyons resumed his investigation into the bank assessment matter yesterday. O. J. Woodward and E. F. Oatman, the president and the cashier respectively of the First National bank, had previously submitted a statement to the assessor which failed to satisfy that official. He wanted the bank or the depositors to pay some taxes on the large amount of money loaned by that institution, and in order to inform himself as to the details he called for the book containing the names of the depositors and the amount to their credit at noon on the first Monday in March.

This book the bank officials refused to produce, and the assessor, in order that his demand should be made as formal as practicable summoned them to appear before him. Deputy City Attorney Graham represented the assessor and George E. Church appeared as attorney for the bank.

Mr. Woodward was sworn and examined by Mr. Graham. The salient points of the examination are as follows:

"Have you any book or memorandum in which the names of depositors in the bank are kept?" asked Mr. Graham.

"Yes, sir," replied Mr. Woodward.

"Does that book disclose the names of depositors as they existed on the first Monday in March, 1892, and the amount of money that was credited to each depositor?"

"We have a journal and a ledger which show the amount of deposits on the morning of the first Monday of March and what remained on deposit at the end of the day."

Mr. Woodward stated that he had records also that showed the names of the depositors and the amount of the deposits as they existed on the morning of the first Monday in March and also at the close of that day's business. He believed that it would be an endless job to give the names of all the depositors for the reason that some of the accounts are six years old.

"Are you willing to, and will you produce those books here if demanded?" asked Mr. Graham.

"I will produce all the books" was the reply, "except the books showing the individual names of the depositors. Those I positively refuse to submit to the inspection of the assessor."

"Do you know the names of any of the depositors who had money in your bank on the first Monday of March at noon?"

Mr. Woodward replied that he could not remember them.

"Can you ascertain the names of any such by reference to the books in your bank?"

"I can, but I will not."

"By examination of the records can you ascertain the amount or amounts deposited in your bank to the credit of any person or persons?"

"I could as to what the books would show," replied Mr. Woodward, "but that money might not belong to them at that time. If you had a deposit there and gave your check to Mr. Terry for the amount the money would be no longer yours."

The assessor controverted this statement. The money would belong to the original depositor until the bank was notified. A man might give ten different checks to ten different persons each calling for the whole of the deposit, but that would not affect the deposit.

Mr. Woodward said that he had given the assessor a statement of the amount of money in bulk deposited in the bank, and that was all that he proposed to give concerning the deposits.

"If there is anything prohibited under the law," said Mr. Church, "it is this matter of double taxation. In the original law there is nothing at all that will touch it, but in the rules issued by the state board, while they admit that in the case of loan and savings banks there is a special rule, they seem to hold that all deposits not special deposits may be taxed to the bank. I don't see why you want to require the bank to show what you can find out from the depositors themselves."

Deputy Assessor Winchell said that the bank statement was not satisfactory, and he and the assessor wanted to see the books to verify the statements made by the bank officers, "to see that their segregation is correct, and to ascertain whether they have given all that they ought to give."

Mr. Church contended that the books which disclose the affairs of the bank's customers should not be inspected. The assessor had a right to inspect the bank's books with reference to its own affairs, but not with reference to the private business of its depositors.

E. F. Oatman, cashier of the First National bank, was the next witness. He was asked questions similar to those propounded to Mr. Woodward, and he made similar replies, and flatly refused to produce the books demanded.

"You have said," continued Mr. Graham, "that the amount of the outstanding loans was $490,000?"

"Yes, sir."

"And that the amount of these loans consisted entirely of deposits?"

"Yes, sir."

"In your statement to the assessor you said that the amount of the deposits was $412,000. Will you please state now how it is that $490,000, consisting entirely of deposits, was loaned out when your statement says that only $412,000 was due to depositors?"

Mr. Oatman replied that he presumed that a part of that came in the surplus.

Mr. Woodward explained that part of that money was loaned on mortgages on property not in the city, and that and some other items would explain the apparent discrepancy of $78,000.

Deputy Assessor Winchell said that there was a discrepancy of $78,000 that neither the bank nor the depositors claimed. "I am completely in the dark," he added; "I don't understand where that $78,000 comes in."

Mr. Woodward said that Mr. Oatman must have been mistaken when he made his former statement. He could take Mr. Winchell down to the bank and explain it to him as clear as day.

In answer to a question by Mr. Graham, witness said that the average amount outstanding on loans was from $400,000 to $425,000, and that the usual rate of interest was 1 per cent per month. The gross interest realized goes to pay the bank expenses, a portion on the surplus and a portion is let out at interest.

Mr. Winchell suggested that the receipts from interest belonged to the bank.

"Have you any account showing your interest receipts and their disposition?" asked Mr. Winchell.

The witness replied in the affirmative.

"Is that shown in your statement to the assessor?"

"No, sir," responded the witness promptly.

"Why not?" asked Mr. Winchell. "Is not $20 interest money just as good as $20 principal?"

"We don't have any on hand," replied Mr. Oatman. "It is applied to the payment of expenses, taxes, etc."

"Does it cut any figure at all in the statement made to the assessor?" persisted Mr. Winchell.

"I don't know" was the answer. "What is left after paying expenses goes to the surplus fund twice a year.

This closed the examination. It was decided by the assessor to make a test case on Mr. Woodward by imposing a fine upon him of $100 and by making an arbitrary assessment against the First National bank. When the assessor attempts to collect the taxes the matter will be thrown into the superior court.

Mr. Woodward smiled and remarked that by the time that the case was decided Assessor Lyons and Deputy Assessor Winchell would be out of office.

This remark pricked the gentlemen under the skin and Mr. Lyons retorted that he did not believe that Mr. Woodward carried the vote of Fresno in his vest pocket.

This morning other bankers will be examined before the assessor.

APRICOTS BOOMING.

Good Prices Will Prevail for Fruit in Fresno County.

J. K. Armsby, a well known fruit packer of Chicago, is visiting Fresno with A. G. Freeman, his San Francisco agent. He is buying fruit and probably will make an offer for London layer raisins.

There is another large buyer here from Kansas City, Mo., who is after fruit. He reports a failure of the fruit crop in his state, but a large grain crop. The people want fruit, and thanks to their success with the cereals will have plenty of money to pay for it.

He told a reporter that last year 300 carloads of Mason's jars were brought into Kansas City for distribution throughout the state to be used for home consumption, but no jars would be needed there this year because there would not be a peach, a pear or an apple raised in Missouri, the fruit crop having been a total failure. He came here for the purpose of doing a big business in fruit buying.

The prospect for the fruit market in Fresno is brilliant, the present ruling price for dried apricots being 10½ cents per pound, while choice lots have brought 11 cents. Peaches, pears and apples will also fetch good prices, that is for a first class article.

Fruit growers here are jubilant, and so are grain growers, over the prospects for good crops and prices. The market for first class raisins is also beginning to assume a healthy tone, but the first crop will be very light owing to the prevalence of the coulure. This deficiency in the supply will go a great way toward stiffening prices, and if there is any class of people in the world that want stiff prices more than any one else it is the raisin growers.

THE SUPERVISORS.

PETITIONS FOR REDUCTION OF ASSESSMENTS.

The Petitions Granted—Assistants Appointed for the County Officials.

The supervisors are still in session as a county board of equalization, but are not being taxed beyond their strength by any means.

The first petition for a reduction of assessment was made yesterday morning by the Sunset Telegraph and Telephone company, through their auditor, Percy T. Morgan, who came down specially from San Francisco for this purpose.

The company was assessed at $20,170, which figure it pronounced exorbitant. The telephones were assessed at $100 each, or a total of $17,000. This assessment was based upon their rental value and the royalty that had to be paid the eastern company. Mr. Morgan asked that the assessment be decreased to $5155.

The board took the matter under advisement and late in the afternoon decreased the assessment to $15,000.

The Perrins also appeared before the board and requested a reduction of the assessed value of their canals from $200,000 to $100,000. The board granted the demand, deeming it just. The lands are assessed separately; the amount of $200,000 was on the canals alone.

The board also ordered that the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies appear before the board and show cause why their respective assessments should not be raised.

At the afternoon session the supervisors took up the deputy question again and their action filled the court house employes with gratification. The board allowed the county officials the following number of assistants with the salaries designated:

Superintendent of schools one assistant at $100 per month.

Auditor and treasurer one assistant each at $100 each per month.

County clerk two assistants at $125 per month each, one at $100 and one at $85 per month.

Sheriff one at $125 per month, two at $100, one at $80 and one at $50.

Recorder two at $100 per month each and one at $80.

Assessor one at $100 per month; tax collector one at $100 and one at $60 per month.

District attorney one at $150 per month and two at $125 per month each.

As will be seen there are no more deputies, only assistants.

Sperry's Stockton flour has never been equaled.

A FREE MAN.

The Remaining Charge Against C. D. Church Dismissed.

In the superior court yesterday the information against C. D. Church, charging him with grand larceny, was dismissed on motion of the assistant district attorney on the ground of insufficient testimony.

In this information Church was charged with having stolen a wagon from W. J. Hicks, valued at $150, on October 7, 1891.

The day before Church was acquitted by a jury on a similar charge. Church has had a hard time and many people sympathized with him on account of his invalid wife and young daughter. This sympathy was a great point in his favor.

Some time before the trial he was examined for insanity, but the examiners did not feel justified in committing him on the evidence adduced.

Subsequently, a jury refused to acquit him on the ground that he was not responsible for his actions on account of insanity. He was taken to the asylum, but discharged a few weeks later, the physician saying he was of sound mind.

DETECTIVE WARD.

Clever Capture Yesterday of a Valise Thief

OUT ON BLACKSTONE AVENUE.

The Stolen Property Recovered and Mr. Moore Proceeded to San Diego.

Deputy Constable Ward did a clever bit of detective work yesterday.

It was to him that A. M. Moore confided his troubles and Mr. Ward sympathized with that gentleman and swore that he would see that justice was done him.

Mr. Moore left San Francisco last Tuesday morning on the way to San Diego. He had a light overcoat and a leather valise with him. In the valise were a change of clothing, a pistol and some government blanks for star route mail contracts.

When the train stopped in the afternoon at this city to allow the passengers twenty minutes for dinner Mr. Moore, being hungry, left his valise and overcoat in the car and went out to eat.

When he returned the valise and coat were missing. His principal business in San Diego being to have the mail contracts filled out and signed there was no use in his proceeding thither, so he remained here to endeavor to recover the papers, and thus save the two weeks' delay that would be necessitated by his sending to Washington for more blanks.

Deputy Constable Ward obtained a description of several suspicious-looking characters who had been seen loitering about the depot, and he went on the trail yesterday morning in a buggy, after having spent the night in securing Chinatown and the city front on foot.

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon Ward, while driving along Blackstone avenue, saw one of the men sitting in front of a saloon opposite Hudson's grocery. He arrested the man and brought him into town.

The prisoner gave his name as Frank White and said that he had come from Sacramento. Being forced to give an account of himself he said that he lived in a room near the Pleasanton. He denied that he had any valise except his own, but when Ward took him to the room Moore's valise was found under the bed and the contents under the bureau.

White then admitted that he had "pawned" the pistol to a Chinaman for $2. This was the only article missing from the grip.

The prisoner was lodged in jail on a charge of petit larceny and will be taken before Justice of the Peace Prince this morning.

While in the prisoner's room White wanted Ward to go under the bed for the valise, but Ward declined and made White perform the acrobatic feat.

"He wanted a chance to kick the gizzard out of me," said Ward.

How the Absentees Are Enjoying Life.

CAPITOLA, July 12.—R. Kerkhoerer and wife of Fresno are registered at the Capitola hotel.

Willard Brooks and wife and Mrs. J. W. Brooks are enjoying the breezes of Capitola.

Colonel Lohe of Stockton passed through Capitola for Santa Cruz yesterday. He is down making arrangements for the division encampment in August.

Mrs. James E. Brown has engaged a cottage at Capitola for the summer. She will arrive early next week.

Mrs. J. Crowley of Visalia is visiting friends in Santa Cruz.

Ed Steinmetz of Fresno is visiting his parents in Santa Cruz. Ed is always to be found on the beach at bathing time.

S. R. Wilson and family of Fresno are listening to the murmuring Capitolan waves. They are here to stay.

Every one is having great sport catching salmon. Great schools of sardines are in the bay. Salmon are following them in great numbers. The most surprising thing about it is that the salmon readily take the hook. An amateur from Stockton caught nineteen yesterday, weighing from 7 to 35 pounds each.

Capitola has been greatly improved since last year. A number of new houses have been built, new sewers have been put in, and everything is more clean and orderly than ever before, due principally to the efficient management of the able superintendent, Frank Roanier. CAMPER.

We pronounce Reid Bro's White Star lard the purest of any that we have ever handled. We also sell the Kingan ham, which we carry always in stock.

VENDOR'S LIEN.

D. Parkhurst Files Several Suits to Foreclose.

D. W. Parkhurst filed four suits in the superior court yesterday to foreclose vendor's lien. As the cases are all alike though the amounts are different, it will suffice to give one.

In his complaint against H. E. Lee, Parkhurst alleges that on January 20, 1888, he sold to defendant lots 17 to 23, both inclusive, in block 202 of Parkhurst addition to Fresno for $3250.

The terms were $821.50 in cash, which was then paid, and the balance in installments in 12, 18 and 24 months respectively, with 10 per cent interest. None of the installments have, however, been paid.

Plaintiff states he has a lien as vendor upon the said premises for the payment of the purchase money, and prays for judgment against defendant for $3037.91.

He also asks that the court declare he has a lien as vendor upon said premises, and that the same be sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of the sum before mentioned, also that the defendant be barred and foreclosed of all right to redeem said premises.

The other suits are against A. J. Wiener et al. for $3252.08, A. W. Pierce et al. for $2077.62, and W. A. Wood et al. for $1680.44.

JEALOUSY AND A JAG.

Myrtle Van Tassell Fined $40 by Justice Shannon.

Myrtle Van Tassell, who took a shot at her husband, Al Raymond, in the Acme chop house some time ago, appeared before Justice of the Peace Shannon yesterday in Justice Prince's court.

Raymond declined to prosecute, but the testimony of the witnesses was that the lady was suffering from jealousy and a jag, and fired the pistol to frighten her husband into keeping better watch over his marriage vows.

She disclaimed any intention of injuring her husband. All she wanted was to scare him by sending a bullet into the floor.

Justice Shannon found the fair Myrtle guilty of disturbing the peace and sentenced her to pay a fine of $40 with the alternative of forty days' imprisonment.

TEXAS VISITORS

Examining Fresno County's Resources.

THEY WILL REMAIN ONE WEEK

Brought Here by Craigie Sharp Jr. and F. A. Alexander. Their Names.

Some five or six weeks ago Craigie Sharp Jr. and F. A. Alexander went east to see what they could do in the matter of inducing immigration this way. They visited a number of states and distributed literature concerning Fresno county where they thought it would do the most good.

Yesterday morning they returned from their trip bringing with them a number of people whom they succeeded in interesting in Fresno county, and who will remain here a week or ten days investigating vineyards and orchards, and informing themselves concerning the county's resources and industries.

They are all people of means, and it is certain they will be pleased with what they see and learn here. It is quite likely that some of them will make up their minds to invest in property in this county and perhaps to live here. At any rate they will be able to give their friends and acquaintances home a good account of the raisin center.

The party consists of J. W. Lowber, Ph.D., L.L.D., and wife, Miss Florence Peak, Miss Olive Peak, Mrs. Clara Weldren, Miss Sarah Lever and Miss Minnie Clay of Fort Worth, Tex.; Mrs. E. S. Baldwin and Miss Lenora Baldwin of Austin, Tex.; H. H. Rainbolt, wife and niece of Weatherford, Tex.; Mrs. S. E. Moss of Morgan, Tex.; B. W. Ferris of Waxahachie, Tex.; Captain J. W. Fields and wife, H. W. Harrison, W. L. White and Henry Wilson of Corsicana, Tex.; Dr. E. Emanuel and wife of Weatherford, Tex.

After they have made a thorough inspection of Fresno and vicinity they will visit the Yosemite and various points on the coast before returning home. Dr. Lowber, one of the members of the party, will deliver several lectures during his stay in this city.

If a little more energy and some of the old time enterprise were displayed by other of our real estate men, there would be a resumption of immigration hitherward.

RAYMOND EXAMINED

For Committing Assault With a Deadly Weapon.

The preliminary examination of Fred Raymond, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was held yesterday afternoon before Justice Crichton.

The complaining witness was George Towle, who alleged that Raymond threatened him with a tire-setter. Towle was, according to an arrangement between him and Raymond, occupying and conducting a blacksmith shop at Fowler belonging to the latter. They had trouble once or twice before concerning the transaction.

Raymond, when put on the stand, alleged that Towle had not rented the shop. Raymond had bought the necessary stock from Truman, Hooker & Co., and agreed to let Towle conduct the business and retain the profits in consideration of his paying part of the indebtedness to the firm mentioned. He was also to do Raymond's work, for which he was to receive regular pay.

Raymond had left a wagon there to be repaired, and, according to his statement, Towle did not attend to the work promptly enough. He went into the shop and began to work on the vehicle himself. While there Towle came toward him in a threatening manner with a single-tree. Raymond grasped an iron bar to defend himself, when Towle threw the single-tree at him and ran from the shop, Raymond following him.

Justice Crichton took the case under advisement.

UNCROWNED KINGS.

WHITE REFUSED THE LEWIS CO'S HISTORY.

Said It Was Worthless—Others Are In the Same Boat.

The suit brought by the Lewis Publishing company against T. C. White a few days ago has resulted in the disclosure of a very amusing state of affairs.

It will be remembered that the company sued White for $275, which he is alleged to have promised to pay the company for a steel engraving and biographical sketch in a book entitled, "A Memorial and Biographical History of the Counties of Fresno, Kern and Tulare."

Mr. White also agreed to subscribe for the book, promising to pay $18 therefor.

The suit was brought in Justice Crichton's court. It happens, however, that the justice is also on the company's list as an aspirant to fame, and he being in the same position as Supervisor White, is not qualified to sit in the case.

The case cannot be heard by Justice Prince for the same reason. What complicates the thing still more is the fact that most of the lawyers in town are said to have either subscribed for the book or to have made contracts by which they were to receive a due share of fame in return for hard cash.

Let it be granted there is a justice of the peace in the county who is not in the toils and that the case is decided by him. If it be appealed by the defeated party it is likely that neither of the superior judges will be qualified to pass on the matter, for both are reported to have subscribed for the book and to have refused it on the ground of its worthlessness.

Being a history of Kern and Tulare counties as well the superior judges there are probably in the same boat, so a change of venue would have to be taken to Siskiyou or San Diego. Beside those mentioned, there are a large number of prominent citizens who have either subscribed for the book or who have made contracts with the company for write-ups.

Mr. White was questioned concerning the matter yesterday, and was in a rather unamiable frame of mind about it, believing he was singled out by the company, because he was running for office, with the hope of injuring him.

"I did not understand the affair as a contract for a biographical sketch and likeness at all," said the supervisor. "The company's agent, one Harrison, came to me and spoke of the proposed publication, saying they intended to write a complete description of the county, interspersed with biographical sketches of the prominent men.

"He stated that the work would be first class, one of the finest of the kind ever issued, and that it would be the best advertisement the county has ever had, and so on. He assured me that it was intended to write me up, (as well as others) being the oldest raisin-grower in the county and a prominent official, but that the work would be a very expensive one, and he hoped I would help him out. This I readily agreed to do to the extent of the sum sued for and subscribed for the book besides.

"When I received the book I saw it was altogether without literary merit, and not what it was represented it would be, and of course refused it."

The case has aroused much merriment and the developments will be watched with interest. There is a moral to all this and it is: "Do your advertising at home."

VARTANIAN ACQUITTED.

A 10 Per Cent Bill of Sale as Good as a Pawn Ticket.

H. Vartanian, the pawnbroker, whose place was burglarized last Tuesday afternoon, was tried before a jury yesterday in Justice Prince's court on a charge of collecting an illegal rate of interest on a pawn ticket, to-wit: 10 per cent for one month.

Reel B. Terry and G. G. Goucher were the attorneys for Vartanian and W. R. Jacobs represented the prosecution. The evidence was that a man soaked a watch with Vartanian for $3. He received a pawn ticket purporting to be a conditional bill of sale, the condition being that the holder of the ticket might repurchase the watch from Vartanian in or within thirty days' time on paying Vartanian $3.30.

The jury listened to the eloquence of Senator Goucher and acquitted the defendant, thus deciding that the watch had been sold, not pawned, and that the ticket was a bill of sale. Because the blackboard was labeled "This is a white board" they decided that the black board was a white board.

By the terms of the purported bill of sale Vartanian would not have been allowed to sell the watch before the expiration of thirty days for any price to any person save the holder of the ticket. It was therefore not a sale, but a pledge of the property for that period of time.

The verdict exhibits the power of mind over matter, of jawbone over common sense and law.

SMALL, BUT BAD.

Stonewall Armstrong Steals Money from His Mother.

Stonewall Armstrong, a colored boy about 11 years old, was arrested yesterday on a charge of petty larceny, his mother, Mrs. Ella Straussman, being the complainant. He is alleged to have stolen $2 from her.

Some weeks ago Stonewall was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, his victim having been his mother. He signed her name to an order for some money and got it. He spent it for such articles as have the greatest fascination for the small boy.

He was arrested, and on account of his youth escaped being sent to jail. His mother decided to send him to the reform school and said she would have some clothes made for him so that he would present a respectable appearance.

She was about ready to send him away when he committed this new offense. Having disregarded the warning given him on a former occasion, Justice Crichton sent Stonewall to jail. The lad will probably be sent to Whittier in a few days.

BUSY ALL DAY.

Low Prices Cause a Rush to the Poor Man's Friend.

In spite of dull times and the fact that most people are at work in the fields with little or no time to come to town, the Poor Man's Friend store did a rushing business yesterday. The clerks and salesmen were hard at work and as for the proprietors they scarcely had time to give a few words of necessary instruction to The Republican advertising man who called on them. The wonderfully low price list and their reputation for doing as they advertise brought throngs to the Poor Man's Friend store. Everything went as advertised and customers were delighted. The entire stock will be closed out at these prices as they must have the cash and are determined not to carry over a single article to the new company. Everybody can save money by buying now, as goods are being almost given away as will be seen by consulting the price list. *

McMAHON'S BLADE.

EFFECT OF SLEEPING UNDER THE DEMOCRATIC ARCH.

A Boxing Match Between Policeman Zener and a Drunken Man Who Used a Knife.

The examination of James McMahon on a charge of an assault with a deadly weapon upon Policeman Zener was begun yesterday before Recorder Laning.

H. C. Tupper represented the prosecution and G. G. Goucher the defense.

The evidence showed that about 11 o'clock on the night of June 23d McMahon was lying asleep on the sidewalk on Mariposa street, near the corner of I street, at the foot of the Democratic arch, the mottoes upon which had evidently stupefied him.

When the policeman woke him up McMahon was cross and slashed the policeman's wrists and arms with a penknife.

L. Huber saw the prisoner asleep on the sidewalk with his head in the gutter. He informed Zener of the fact. Zener woke him, and McMahon walked away about fifty feet and called Zener vile names.

Huber walked away from the place, and shortly afterward heard a shot and saw two men running away. McMahon was pretty drunk.

George Brueggemann was standing in front of the Elite saloon and heard a scuffle and loud talking. He heard Zener shout "Help! Help! I'm cut." The witness caught hold of McMahon and slung him around and tried to trip him up. Then McMahon struck at the witness with a knife, and Zener shouted, "Shoot him!"

The witness ran back into the saloon and got a stick and about that time he heard a shot fired. McMahon ran away down I street toward a cobbler shop and was pursued by the witness and Policeman Welsh. The witness knocked the knife out of McMahon's hand and Welsh collared him.

A. A. Pearson, a lodging-house keeper, was standing near Degen's corner and heard McMahon say to Zener: "You — —, you won't arrest me." They were striking at each other. Zener was striking at the man and backed off and the man struck at Zener. It seemed as if Zener had something in his hand. Finally a pistol shot was fired and the man ran away.

The witness heard Zener say "I'm cut help me to take this man."

W. H. Say saw Zener and the prisoner fighting. They struck each other several times and he could hear the sound of the blows.

The case will be resumed to-day.

A BRAVE LITTLE BOY

Saves Miss Lizzie Homer From a Watery Grave.

The Madera Mercury tells of the narrow escape from drowning of Lizzie Homer, "a sweet miss of about 18 summers."

Miss Homer lives with Mrs. Hollenbeck on Yosemite avenue. On Tuesday afternoon she went swimming in Lily lake. Two of Mrs. Hollenbeck's children accompanied her to the place, but did not go in. The water was cold, and after crossing the lake several times Miss Homer came out on the bank and romped with the children awhile.

She entered the water again and started to swim to the opposite shore, but was seized with a cramp. She called for help and the children on the bank seeing her plight, screamed with terror.

The little girl ran to the house near by, calling to her mother. The boy, Eddie, with rare presence of mind, ran to a boat that lay half submerged in the water and pushed it toward Miss Homer.

Miss Homer had sunk nine times and was on the point of giving up when the bow of the boat came within her reach. She threw one arm over it, but was so weak from her battle for life that it began to slip off. Eddie Hollenback jumped into the boat and grasped her hands and held her until assistance came.

She was taken to the house and restored to consciousness and is none the worse for her experience.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.

A Dwelling House in East Fresno Destroyed.

A dwelling house in East Fresno, opposite Pollasky station, took fire about 9 o'clock last night and was burned to the ground.

A still alarm was sent to the Chemical engine company, and although the fire was beyond the city limits the engine company proceeded thither with their apparatus, but so long a time had elapsed between the starting of the fire and the sounding of the alarm that nothing could be done to save the property.

The Folsom Calamity.

Peoria, July 13.—The capsizing of the steamer Frankie Folsom with the attendant loss of life last night was caused by an attempt to head the boat ashore during a gale, thus exposing a broadside to the wind. The excursionists had been to Lake View park to witness the production of the "Last Days of Pompeii." When the vessel overturned she was in sixteen feet of water, 100 yards from the shore. The first boat that reached the steamer was nearly swamped by the half-drowned people. Other boats went to the rescue and twenty-six persons were taken ashore. Nine are known to have drowned and yet to be heard from.

Bravery of Two Princesses.

To the long list of courageous women must now be added the names of Princess Eleonore and Princess Mathilde, of Solms, who, while walking outside Berlin last week, met a lady whose horse was violently bolting. The rider had lost all control, and without a second's hesitation the two princesses rushed at the horse's bridle and checked him in his flight, in doing which the Princess Eleonore was unfortunately knocked down and severely kicked in the head and right foot. The other princess was lucky enough to escape without any injury, much to the consolation of the lady whose horse had been so courageously stopped in his flight.—Hawk.

Pretty, but Not Altogether Practical.

Hairpin boxes of silver, with the inscription, "A Woman's Friend," in decorative text engraved on the cover below a raised outline of the "friend," are among the novelties. They will hardly displace the pretty china and silver trays for holding these necessities of the dressing table. No woman in the exigencies of "doing" her hair likes to stop to open a box to get at her hairpins, and with the total depravity ascribed to inanimate things, it would be sure to be shut at the critical moment when a puff needs pinning or a curl is to be secured. —Exchange.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Makes the hair soft and glossy.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for nearly five years, and my hair is moist, glossy, and in an excellent state of preservation. I am forty years old, and have ridden the plains for twenty-five years." —Wm. Henry Ott, alias "Mustang Bill," Newcastle, Wyo.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Prevents hair from falling out.

"A number of years ago, by recommendation of a friend, I began to use Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop the hair from falling out and prevent its turning gray. The first effects were most satisfactory. Occasional applications since have kept my hair thick and of a natural color."—H. E. Basham, McKinney, Texas.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Restores hair after fevers.

"Over a year ago I had a severe fever, and when I recovered, my hair began to fall out, and what little remained turned gray. I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now my hair is growing rapidly and is restored to its original color."—Mrs. A. Collins, Dighton, Mass.

Ayer's Hair Vigor
